The Company insures on equitable terms, and at a fixed premium, every description of property. The Company is solely and exclusively responsible for losses occasioned by fire which may be suffered by insured parties.

The Insurance may be effected for periods ranging from one month to ten years. The total premium is payable in advance, in cases where the Insurance is effected for a term of one year or less; and annually where the term exceeds one year. In terms of from 5 to 10 years, payment in advance of 5 years premium, entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of one year's premium: or in other words the Company will only charge the premium corresponding to four years.

Payment in advance of ten year's premium entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of two year's premium; with a further abatement of 10 p: cent: on the premium corresponding to the term of eight years: that is he will only be charged with the amount of eight year's premiums—less 10 p. cent.

The Company furnishes guarantees of the highest character, from the fact of there being no other Fire Insurance Company, at a fixed premium, having its head residence in the Argentine Republic; and also from the circunstance of its large capital.

The Company's funds are deposited in the Provincial Bank.

Further particulars will be furnished on application at the Company's Offices. 93 xp n15

ENGLAND.

The great political event of the fortnight is the retirement of Lord Derby and the elevation of Mr. Disraeli to the Premiership. The Conservative party appear to have resigned themselves to the duty of giving true and faithful obedience to their new head, who has entered upon his work with the same policy and the same ministerial team as Lord Derby, with the exception that Lord Cairns is Chancellor and Mr. Ward Hunt presides over the National Exchequer. In 1837, Mr. Disraeli addressing a derisive Parliament, exclaimed: "I will sit down now, but the time shall come when you will hear me." In 1868, he receives her Majesty's commands to form a Cabinet, and he speaks in the House of Commons, not only as a leader of a great party, but as the chief organ of Executive power in England. And he is a "Gentleman of the press," which makes the consummation yet more wonderful in our eyes.

In the House of Commons there has been an animated and interesting discussion in reference to the Alabama claims. Mr. G. Shaw Lefevre introduced the subject, and in an able speech traced the progress of the whole question. He did not spare Mr. Laird in dealing with the matter. He recalled the notorious boast of that individual, and declared, with reference to all those persons who undertook to supply the Confederates with war vessels, that he regarded them "as amongst the greatest malefactors of the day, and the only matter to be regretted was that they were not brought to a criminal court and made to answer for their conduct." Mr. Lefevre urged that nothing should be left undone to secure a settlement of the dispute as to the Alabama claims. Lord Stanley spoke at some length, and with much moderation, and before he sat down made the gratifying announcement that Mr. Seward had written suggesting that other friendly methods besides that of arbitration might be acceptable for the settlement of the difficulty. In the debate which followed, Mr. Forster, Mr. Mill, and Mr. Gladstone took prominent part.

UNITED STATES.

New York, Feb. 25.

The House of Representatives last evening adopted the resolution to impeach President Johnson for high crimes and misdemeanours by 121 yeas—all Republican votes—and 41 nays, including one Republican vote. The House then appointed Mr. Thaddeus Stevens and Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, as a committee formally to impeach Mr. Johnson at the bar of the Senate. Messrs. Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Wilson, Logan, and Ward were selected as the committee to prepare the articles of impeachment.

President Johnson's Message to the Senate states that the Tenure of Office Act prohibits the removal, without the consent of the Senate, of any Cabinet Officer during the term of office of the President by whom he was appointed. He did not appoint Mr Stanton, and, therefore, his removal was no violation of the Act. But all the Cabinet, including Mr. Stanton, had pronounced the Tenure of Office Act to be unconstitutional, and President Johnson wished the matter tested by the courts of the nation. He had honestly endeavored to discharge his solemn obligation to defend the Constitution and the high office entrusted to him. He had acted with great circumspection, but regardless of consequences to himself.

The Senate has referred the nomination of General Ewing as Secretary of War to the Military Committee.

Mr. Stanton continues to hold his position at the War Office. On Saturday he procured the arrest of General Thomas, on a warrant of Judge Carter.

The Supreme Court of the district of Columbia has issued a response to Mr. Stanton's affidavit that General Thomas had threatened forcibly to seize the War-office, thereby violating the Tenure of Office law. General Thomas has been released on bail, to answer the charge on Wednesday next.

Governor Geary, of Pennsylvania, on Saturday telegraphed to Senator Cameron that the Pennsylvania troops were ready to sustain Congress. Several organisations of the grand army of the Republic have placed their services for sustaining Congress at the disposition of General Logan, who is the commander of their order, and also a member of the House of Representatives.

It is reported that the Maryland militia have tendered their services to President Johnson.

It is reported that General Grant has ordered General Emory to obey only the orders issued by him.

The New Jersey Legislature has passed a resolution of sympathy with Mr. Johnson in resisting the "encroachments" of Congress.

The Loyal League Clubs in the principal cities have been firing salutes in honor of the impeachment.

The Florida Convention has adopted the new Constitution, which will be submitted to the people for ratification on the 6th, 7th, and 8th of April.

The Kentucky Democratic Convention have pronounced in favor of Mr. Pendleton for the Presidency.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The English packet arrived yesterday with the mails from Rio, Lisbon and England. The news from home and North America, are highly important. It seems the President of the United States has been formerly impeached, and the trial is to come off with the slightest delay possible, a proviso being made meanwhile to leave the President full liberty in the discharge of his official duties. The mails too, from Uruguay are in, but the news they bring are not important. We refer our readers to another column where they will find the news brought us by the Arno.

The French mail left on Sunday. Among the passengers was Mr. Cushing a North American gentleman who though of short residence was very favorably known in Buenos Ayres. His knowledge of music, his humorous manners, and many accomplishments endeared him to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was accompained to the mole-head by a numerous body of friends.

The elections passed off here on Sunday, contrary to expectation, in profound calm. The party that supports Sr. Elizalde for candidate, knowing they could not fairly count upon any semblance of a majority, wisely abstained from putting in an appearance, and the party supporting the Sarmiento-Alsina combination had a quiet walk over. We are informed that various arrests were made in the Colon Theatre on Sunday evening, and several people quietly walked off by the police without any apparent motive which has not yet transpired.

Our worthy and active Governor, Sr. Alsina, who left for a short excursion to the South on Wednesday last, is expected to return to-morrow evening.

Baron Maua has published a luminous article upon the all-absorbing topic of the resumption of specie payments in Montevideo. We have placed the article in the hands of our translator in order to give it intact to the British public of the River Plate, but its great length will prevent our publishing it for a day or two, and we reserve till then our own remarks upon this important document.

The 'Stabat Mater' given at Colon on Saturday did not draw a very crowded house. We were unable to attend, but are informed that owing to the sudden illness of Mme. Lablache our talented countrywoman, Mme. Farnesi, was earnestly requested at the eleventh hour by the manager to take the part of first soprano, to which she kindly and disinterestedly acceded. Under such circumstances it would be unfair to criticise too severely her performance, which, if in some slight respect not doing full justice to her artistic talents, was highly creditable to her amiable disposition.

We are obliged to hold over a long and interesting account of the doings of the cricketers in Montevideo last week, to which, however, we shall give early insertion. We have already apprised our readers of the success of the grand cricketing event of last week, and they will we trust excuse our not giving them for a day or two the full and official details.

We believe that, on political and social grounds, no emigration is better suited for the River Plate than the German. Our chief statesmen recognise it as a fact, and have encouraged it on the grounds that German philosophy and patience would counterbalance, to a certain extent, the character emporté of the Latin race. We have seen what the Germans have done for the United States: how they have opened up the Western territory, and how, through their immense exportation of bacon and corn, they have become, as it were, the dry goods storekeepers of the world. They have even beaten the Irishman on his own ground, for the latter have been completly outdone in the rearing of the national animal. What has been done in North America may be done here also; and we hope to see this industry take root in the country. A little more attention to agriculture would soon effect a permanent benefit in the political economy of the Republic. The German element, eminently suited for agriculture, is, we are glad to say, becoming daily stronger; and no better proof of what we say can be given than the constantly increasing list of Teutonic subscribers to the "Standard:" and if this is not sufficient testimony there is Mr. William Crauweil, of 30, Rivadavia, who is as go-ahead a man as any we know, has been obliged to meet the wants of the German community by getting a first-class German assistant in his extensive business. Ever alive to the interests and welfare of our excellent German friends, especially when their very healths are in question, we would recommend them to see their doctor's recipes properly made up by taking them to Mr. Cranwell's, of Rivadavia. The slightest error in medicine is often fatal.

In view of the low prices obtained for capones sent from camp to town some of which have only fetched the unprecedented low figure of $8, the owners of graserias in the Southern camps have resolved to work on a large scale, both with animals reared on their own establishments as well as on commission. We are informed that the following graserias have taken this determination in the neighborhood:—Sr. Lario's, Lomas; Sr. Vegat's, San Vicente; S. S. Capdevila y Gonzalez's, Chascomus; and further out, M. Solare's, Saladillo; Sr. Ramos's, Kakel; Sr. Senillosa's, Pilar; and Sr. Nuñez's, Juncal.

By telegrams that have come in to-day, we hear there is a long article in the Times of the 13th on the Paraguayan war, published from the official correspondence respecting hostilities in the River Plate from May last year to the end of the following December. We have before us a very interesting article of the Daily News on the same question. From it we gather some of our countrymen are forcibly detained in Paraguay, and that Lopez absolutely refuses to let them depart. We shall publish it in to-morrow's number. The editor makes the ridiculous mistake of calling our late respected Minister to this country "Consul Mathew."

We are requested to inform the members of the Philharmonic Society that the first rehearsal for the next concert will take place to-night (Tuesday), at half-past seven o'clock, at the Coliseum, and that, as said concert comes off on Monday evening, 4th prox., it is hoped all the active members will be present.

The Southern camps are in splendid order, and all the hacienda in excellent condition, and as there is not much probability of their becoming thinner now, all our campmen are full of glee in the confident expectation that from the month of May forward, they will be able to realise good prices for their novillos and cows.

THE MONTEVIDEAN BANKS.

In the Mercantil del Plata of the 9th inst., we noticed the balances of the seven banks of Montevideo, and we are at a loss to understand whether those balance-sheets are intended to show or to hide the state of the banks.

The Banco Oriental is the only one that acknowledges that in the account cash are comprised $181,000 m|c. of the other banks; thus of its cash seven-thirteenths is in gold, and six-thirteenths in paper. It also shows that only three-fourths of its capital is paid up.

The Banco Montevideano adds to its cash $210,000 due by the Tesoro del Brasil; on the same principle it might just as well deduct $1,000,000 from its paper in circulation for first-rate bills coming due. The balance-sheet states 'capital,' but we are not told whether it is paid up or not.

The Banco de Londres has only $113,000 in circulation, and as it pays its own paper in gold, and the balance-sheet of 29th February gives $144,000 paper, we might come to the conclusion that a large portion of its paper is lost or destroyed, and very soon the remainder may be passed to the credit of Profit and Loss.

The Banco Mauá acknowledges a paid up capital, and is the only one that holds a reserve.

The Banco Italiano states that only five-eighths of its capital is paid up.

The Banco Navia leaves us in the dark whether its capital is paid up or not; but this bank, with the smallest capital, does in proportion the largest business, and its gold on hand being nearly equal to its outstanding emission, it is evident that it is not only in a sound state, but that it combines two very important conditions, viz., to facilitate as much as possible, while making handsome profits, and at the same time to take care that its outstandings are in good hands for sound and legitimate business. We may perhaps account for this favorable position by the long experience of the manager, and 'quien sabe' if the capital be not his own. We might even go farther and point out this bank as an example that free banks, well conducted, are highly useful without leading to ruinous monetary crises, nor give people the opportunity of gambling for their daily bread instead of working honorably for it.

According to the balances of the seven banks to 31st March we find—

Total capital,	$7,355,000
" cash in hand,	7,818,000
" paper in circulation,	11,520,000

But these balances are fictitious, and require as it were a clearing-house balance to correct them; and if we take for basis the statement of the Banco Oriental that its cash is composed of seven-thirteenths gold and six-thirteenths paper, we find that the proportion of the total cash in hand is—

Gold,	$4,210,000
Paper,	3,608,000

which last figures must be tolerably correct, as it is well known that after banking hours at least one-third of the total emission remains in the banks.

If thus, by clearing the paper from the gold, we deduct the same amount from the paper in circulation, or, better said, if before making up the balances all the banks mutually exchange their paper, we should find the following figures:—

Gold in hand,	$4,210,000
Paper in circulation,	7,912,000

which on the whole is by no means bad. But let us separate the banks into two classes, one class with much gold and small emission, and the other the opposite, and we find—

	Gold.	Paper.
Londres,	$1,875,000	$113,000
Comercial,	620,000	398,000
Navia,	744,000	755,000
	$3,239,000	$1,266,000

Applying the clearing-house balance to these figures we find that these three banks together have $1,739,000 in gold, $865,000 emission in circulation, and hold $1,185,000 paper of the other four banks, which they cannot exchange. From this results that the Banco de Londres most likely is the compulsory 'deposito general' of the paper of its colleagues.

The position of the other class is—

	Gold.	Paper.
Montevideano,	$706,000	$1,975,000
Oriental,	395,000	896,000
Mauá,	1,491,000	4,191,000
Italiano,	1,957,000	3,492,000
	$4,579,000	$10,254,000

and applying again the clearing-house balance, we find $2,466,000 gold; against $8,141,000 paper, which certainly is not bright, and the probabilities of payment in gold for a certain length of time, without being obliged again to have 'curso forzoso' are very uncertain, and almost nil.

If the Banks of Montevideo could get in all their outstandings, and pay off all their creditors on such a day, they would have back their total paper emission, however large it might have been, and also their own capital with their profits in gold.

1st. The banks owe in gold to the holders of the paper money the total amount of paper in circulation.

2d. That the debtors to the banks owe this very same amount to the banks, plus the amount of the combined capitals of the banks, less their real metalic deposit.

3d. That to liquidate the banks, the debtors to the banks should pay in gold to the holders of the paper money, all the paper in hand (which, on the 31st of March, was $7,912,000), and, besides, to the banks, the balance between their capital and their cash in hand (which, on the same date, is $3,145,000), the profits of the banks being compromised, most likely in their account of debtors and creditors, or otherwise, one part of the population must pay to the banks in gold, $11,057,000, and then the other part of the population gets from the banks gold for their paper money.

The questions naturally arise—Where is the gold to come from? Can cash payments be resumed? and who is to blame for the monetary crisis in Montevideo? The answer is—The banks, enticed by large profits, have facilitated too much, without caring for what purposes. But by far the greater fault lies with the Montevideo public at large, one portion of which has shamefully abused the too great facilities, and the other portion has largely profited by it, since which both parties are anxious to appear as martyrs of the situation, and while throwing all the blame on the banks, wish to compel them to pay in gold.

THE BUENOS AYRES PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

CONCERT AT THE COLISEUM.

The much-talked of concert to be given by this Society came off on Saturday evening last before a crowded and very select audience. We don't know whether the rival society has collapsed since Ferrari's departure; but we are glad to see Mr. Reinken, notwithstanding the absence or desertion of some old supporters, has managed to maintain his ground with credit and applause.

The appearance on Saturday of several new amateurs reminded us of the director's activity; and it is only by such constant recruiting and careful selections that success can be looked for.

The concert of Saturday, though not immaculate, was eminently successful and evinced considerable study and attention.

The number of ladies and gentlemen present was beyond precedent, and explains, perhaps, the unusually small attendance at the Colon on the same evening, while it argues equally well for the popularity of these 'reunions.' In fact, we seldom remember seeing before so much beauty and loveliness united in the one and same saloon in Buenos Ayres. It is needless to mention names; it is sufficient to say the elite of society was present. If anything could add to the fine appearance and the beautiful lighting-up of the Hall it was this.

The concert opened with 'The March from Il Profeta.' This fine music of Meyerbeer was executed with much precision and harmony. Then came a quartetto, with chorus, of the 'Stabat-Mater.' This, too, was ably performed, but we fancied, the gentlemen's voices of not sufficient power for a saloon of such dimensions as those of the Coliseum. The next piece, by Curschmann, was very fine music, and quite took the ear of those that heard it for the first time. These, with the "Ave Verum coro á Capella," the 'Adagio Religioso,' soprano solo with chorus, from the 'Stabat-Mater,' made up the first part. The solo in the latter was sung by Miss Casalla. She performed her part well, though was she not in such good voice, we fancy, as she generally is.

The second part opened with the 'De Profundis,' from a requiem by Mr. Reinken. This was listened to with profound attention and evident pleasure by a critical audience, which comprised all the resident amateur talent of Buenos Ayres. We are quite certain the general verdict was that the composition was of the highest type, a reflex of Spohr, Mendelsshon, and even Handel. In all the requisites of acquired art, it was unimpeachable.

Then came the aria, "Pro Peccatis," from the "Stabat Mater," for base. This was, perhaps, the best piece of the performance; at least it was vociferously encored. Mr. Cushing is already gone; his passage, like that of a shooting star, was brilliant and rapid, but his performance here and elsewhere, during his short stay in Buenos Ayres, will not be easily forgotten.

With the exception of the "Preludio de Bach y Meditacion," a solo for violin and piano, executed by Senorita Tomasa Carvalho and Sr. Simonis, and the aria for contralto, by Senorita Teresa Ortega, the rest of the second part of the programme, though well performed, does not call for special notice.

The violin was admirably managed. Mr. Simonis drew from it the sweetest sounds, and took the audience quite by surprise. The sentiment and harmony of the music was splendid, and too much credit cannot be given to Miss Carvalho for the able manner she also acquitted herself of her part.

Nevertheless, the greatest success of the evening was the 'Aria para Contralto,' sung by Miss Ortega. The music is difficult, and requires much careful study. Notwithstanding, it was admirably sung. None expected to find in a girl of her age such precision and self-possession—but there she stood, with the coolness and confidence of a finished artiste, fully aware of her powers. With a good voice, possessing considerable reach, a delicate ear, this young lady promises to be one of the brightest stars in B. Ayres. We highly congratulate the young lady in her success and Mr. Reinken for such a finished pupil and excellent concert.

MEANDERINGS IN SOUTH AMERICA

(A.D. 1868.)

I was just finishing a capital breakfast at the Hotel Provence, with my friends Brown and Jones, who had come out from England by the last steamer, when Brown asks:—"I say old fellow, where do you spend your Sundays in Buenos Ayres?"

As a general principle I may remark, that to be addressed as an "old fellow" when barely emerging from your teens, as I am, is provocative of punching your interrogator's head. But Brown and I having been bosom friends from our babyhood, I replied—"At Belgrano of course!" "Why,—of course,? I said—"Everybody that is anybody goes to Belgrano on Sundays. Belgrano is one and the chiefest of the lungs of our Capital it is the Richmond of B. Ayres. It owns an hotel kept by Watson, the prince of caterers, whose mock-turtle and iced champagne, whose gin and brandy smashers and cocktails require only to be tasted to be appreciated. Hear what the Delphic oracle of one of our "best possible instructors" the "Standard" says in a recent number:—

"Our friend Watson at Belgrano, who had been complaining of the utter prostration of business during the week, had a plethora of customers. All his usual habitués might be seen lounging about the premises—the princely merchant, the facetious banker, the opulent estanciero, the consequential clerk, the hard-working broker, the much-abused editor—all congregated there, and all bending under the genial and exhilarating influence of a lovely autumnal day, and, after wiling away pleasantly the sunny hours amid the green fields and shady bowers of Richmondian reminiscence, taxed to the utmost mine host Watson's culinary arrangements."

"Enough" said Brown—"let us be off"—"I should like to take a sherry cobbler (he whispered aside to Jones) with one of these facetious bankers—for they must be a jolly class of fellows!

So, lighting our cigars, we proceeded to the 25 de Mayo station, at which the crowd did not impress either of my companions with the belief that "all the world and his wife," where that day bound for Belgrano.

However, on we "glode," as Artemus Ward would have said, down the tramway—through the Paseo Julio, with no more attractive sights than the two little Resguardo houses at the mole and "a Kiosk by the law Harry"! exclaimed Brown: a line of dirty houses upon one side and the river with some weeping willows intervening on the other. The tramway carriages pull up at the Retiro station. Here it was as usual. Every passenger jumps out, and cuts away for the life of him individually to go ahead. I know it is to secure your seat young man, but neither the locomotive nor the seat is going to start before their time. We have therefore leisure to make ourselves comfortable in our first-class, ere starting,—feeling during the period as if we were in a tunnel. For to tell the truth, it is generally very dark at the Retiro station.

A whistle from the guard—a shriek from the engine—and off we go! Both of my companions are acute observers of men as of nature, and on emerging from the Station Jones exclaims:—"How picturesque are these weeping willows, under whose umbrageous what do ye call ems," as some poet says "these washerwomen are plying their vocation; some half naked, many smoking cigars, and the majority of that man-and-brother species, the God's image, carved-in-ebony race who would get much more favour at Exeter Hall this morning, were they there, than either of us. What a consoling feeling is this, to be sure, for an Englishman, when he travels abroad. "In Exeter Hall," I replied, "they would be out of their element; here they are in it. Besides, in a common sense point of view, the colored washerwomen of Buenos Ayres form an useful institution; and we should be badly off without them."

On we go, right through a fort—"what fort?" asked Jones? but we were slap bang across it, before I could say anything. This fort has however, always been a puzzle to me; and I have little doubt, that in future times its ruins will be to the Archæologist of 1968, a more difficult nut to crack, than were any of the round towers of Ireland to Dr. Petrie. A fortification for offense or defense could scarcely have been constructed here to command the river, because that part of La Plata contiguous to it is a place into which vessels of any kind cannot enter. On the landside it commands only the one road, which goes between it and the bank (not two hundred yards off) and which leads out to Palermo. Therefore an invading army passing in this direction either into or out of the city, could very easily march by any of the upper roads. A whistle and slacking of the train! Here we are at the Palermo Station. I pointed out to my friend, the big square house—it would be profanation to call that a palace, built and occupied by the Dictator Rosas Jones, who had already observed that the fort through which the train passes had been evidently built for the purpose of having a railway cut across it, gives his opinion that Rosas intended Palermo for a cricket ground. And so, with this satisfactory conclusion we are away again, and in a few minutes pull up at Belgrano—Watson's hotel and garden, on the right hand of the Station and behind it a Ducal palace, such as you would rarely see out of Milan or Venice on the left. This latter is the new residence of Mr. Matti, the wealthy Italian steamboat Impresario of the River Plate.

From the Station, as soon as the train starts off for the Tigre we can either go into Watson's for whatever sort of a tot you choose—or can stroll down the road, to the river side, and if in summer time take a swim—or if you are sentimental—for we are never so—you can go up the hill, and sit down at the foot of those grand old Ombu trees, that stand between the Chapel and Governor Alsina's house. Should you choose in preference you can have a walk to the Club, and thence if you be a party of "stable mind" you can go up to the race course. Yes, there is a very pretty, and perfectly circular race-course at Belgrano, as everyone in Buenos Ayres will know in a few days from this.

Through all the streets in Belgrano, there is a line of Paraiso trees on each side, between the trottoir and the main road. This, to my thinking is an extremely attractive charm of the town. In one respect you can scarcely realize, that it is a town of squares; for looking downwards, say from the upper end of any street, you see an unbroken line of trees, as if in a long avenue.

It is very difficult to arrive at a guess even of the population in Belgrano. For the inhabitants may be said to be like (in the words of one of Moore's songs):—

"Those birds that bring summer, and fly when tis o'er," inasmuch as during the winter time, none but the caretakers remain in the houses here.

In the plaza we find an immense height of brick work, with lofty pillars, an iron rod, sticking up out of each of the latter. This is the new chapel, that was begun some years ago, and like many of its prototypes in South America, never was finished "Quien sabe" when it may be? To get to the race course we must cross a road that leads out from the Retiro to San Isidro, and diverges not far from between Mr. Gould's (our Chargé d'Affairs residence) and the pretty quite of Mr. Frederick Plowes, by one branch to San José de Flores. After a shower, indeed at all times, the road in question is a sort of Khyber pass all through. Yet the Provincial Government not only pays to the Belgrano Municipality a monthly subsidy of fifteen hundred dollars towards keeping this road in repair, but every cart crossing the Maldonado bridge to or from this has to pay a turn-pike tax of five dollars. And the beauty of this latter tax is that the bridge in question was built by the Dictator Rosas.

From the top of the grand stand at Belgrano is a very pretty and extensive view. Away to the right is San Jose de Flores, in front of which you see Buenos Ayres city. At your feet Belgrano, with the train passing beyond, and further on is the river. To the left in the neighbourhood is the quinta of Mr. Sagui, and further on in the same direction you get an outline of San Isidro. The fresh air, the bright sun, the green fields, the pretty flowers, the graceful silence and quiet feeling which the country always communicates, the consciousness that you are away from the busy mart of city life makes to the dwellers in Buenos Ayres the enjoyment of a day at Belgrano, a thing long to be remembered.

Having spent our few hours in rambling through these long walks of Paraiso trees, and refreshed ourselves at the houses of a few friends, whom we always visit, when down here, we returned to Watson's rather peckish. And before we were much time with our legs under his mahogany, we felt ourselves, as in old days those roysterers used to do, who met at John Millet's in the Maypole. Verbum sap:—

Therefore go to Belgrano, all who wish to enjoy yourselves, for it is par excellence, the suburb of Buenos Ayres!

HORRIBLE MURDER IN ROSARIO.

MR. DOUGLAS ASSASSINATED.

April 8, 1868.

To the Editors of the "Standard."

A most horrible and cold-blooded murder has been perpetrated here on the night of the 2nd inst. The unfortunate victim was Mr. George Gordon Douglas, who for the past three years carried on the sheepfarming business at Pavon, and who, by his industrious habits, affable manners, and kindness to every one he knew, had gained the good will of every one with whom he formed an acquaintance.

It would seem the poor fellow, being in company with a few friends on the evening above mentioned, parted from them for the purpose of transacting a little business in the suburbs of this town. It was then about half-past seven p.m.; he was most probably set on by some ruffian or ruffians and barbarously murdered. As is usual in these cases, the assassin has, up to the present, escaped with impunity; in fact, the authorities have not taken the slightest notice of the affair.

Within the last ten days several other murders have occurred, and, such is the dread created by these barbarous crimes that almost every person is afraid to move about for fear of being set upon by some of these ruffians, who keep continually prowling about ever since the late revolution.

It is not much to be wondered at that the authorities should feel so careless in such matters since her British Majesty's Consul here takes no trouble whatever to have such cases investigated. What, may I ask, is the utility of his presence amongst us, since, no matter how barbarously a British subject may be treated here by the serenos and vigilantes H.B.M.'s representative is quite satisfied in agreeing with the authorities that such treatment was highly deserved, as the unfortunate sufferer was, at the time, under the influence of liquor, and had given impertinence to the policemen. So long as this state of things exists here there will be very little security for the lives of foreigners; therefore, it is high time Mr. Hutchinson should exert himself even at the eleventh hour, and prevent us, as well as he can, the effusion of more foreign blood.

Yours truly,

ASTOR.

[Although compelled to publish the foregoing intact, we feel bound to say that, as regards Dr. Hutchinson, our worthy Consul in Rosario, the charges made appear most gratuitous. No Consul in the River Plate, to our knowledge, displayed more activity in trying to bring a murderer to justice than Dr. Hutchinson in the case of Marshall.—Eds. Standard.]

MONTEVIDEO.

We have given currency to certain sensational rumors published in the Republica of this city. We have been waiting to hear the other side of the question. The Siglo of Montevideo, which now represents the opinions of the dominant party, has undertaken to characterise the aspersions of the Republica as false and calumnious; and it publishes a letter from Captain Evia, whom the last mentioned paper implicates in the assassination of Gen. Flores. We extract the following passage from his letter:—

"No one in Montevideo was ignorant of my affection for General Flores during his lifetime; and his intimate friends and ex-Ministers, Marquez and Flangini, and his own private secretary, Sr. Errecart, can testify to my conduct at the moment of his death. If there be no more truth in all the rest of the assertions of the Republica's correspondent, and before God I believe there is not, with what atrocious audacity must he have sat down to invent such calumnies for the sake of producing disunion in the Colorado party? But only stupid, and very stupid people, only wretched, and very wretched creatures, could allow themselves to be influenced by such ridiculous inventions."

STEAMERS GOYA AND ESMERALDA.

Buenos Ayres, April 9, 1868.

To the Editors of the Standard,

Gentlemen,—

Having read in the Tribuna of the 7th inst. an article relating to the steamers Esmeralda and Goya, in which there is a deviation from the truth, I beg, through your valuable paper, to give the correct times at which the above steamers left:—the Esmeralda left Corrientes at five p.m. on Thursday last, whereas the Goya left at twenty minutes after six, and at eight o'clock passed the Esmeralda, when, after arriving at Paraná, she lost four hours there, which the Esmeralda did not, and the Goya furthermore anchored in Rosario two hours before the Esmeralda arrived in sight; she moreover anchored in the Boca Guazu all night, as the pilots could not pass Martin Garcia for want of water, but the Esmeralda came through the Palmas, thus saving about two hours' run. Therefore the Esmeralda, although she arrived at this port an hour before the Goya, was no less than nine hours behind her, and each trip the Goya has made she has beat the Esmeralda thirty hours between this port and Corrientes.

I hope you will pardon the liberty I have taken in thus intruding upon your valuable space, and by inserting the foregoing you will sincerely oblige— VERITAS.

THE REV. B. SPEKE.

The following letter appeares in the "Times:"—"Sir,—The family of the Rev. Mr. Speke, and also Mr. Speke himself, feeling deeply grateful to the public for the interest that has been evinced on his behalf, and believing that some explanation of his conduct is fairly demanded, have desired us, who have consulted in the case, to forward you our opinion as to his present and former conditions. Mr. Speke appears to us to have been suffering a long time under a depressing form of hypochondriasis, which dominated his whole mind. Unfortunately, those from whom he sought advice were advertisers; and they increased his fears and aggravated his despondency. The distress caused to Mr. Speke by the melancholy death of his elder brother [the celebrated African traveller] much added to his hypochondriacal perversion, so that during the last two years Mr. Speke admits that he has had a strong desire, and was at length impelled, to separate himself from all those to whom he was known, and hence his strange and apparently inexplicable conduct. It is our conviction that Mr. Speke's recent actions were beyond his control. He is still far from being well, and that he may have entire change, we have recommended his leaving England for a time, accompanied by one of his relatives. We do not doubt that by this course Mr. Speke will be restored to health, and be able shortly to resume his former duties, which he has hitherto well and conscientiously performed.—We are, sir, your obedient servants, 'The Physicians consulted in Mr. Speke's Case.'

Ounces,	400
Sovereigns,	123
Patacons,	25

A fair business done in National Bonds, at 46⅜ to 46¾ for 30th inst. The cash price ruled 46¼. Several of the recent sellers began replacing, and some outsiders appeared anxious to invest at the low rates. Market seems firmer.

In Exchange about £10,000 passed for the supplementary mail, at 49 1/2. Few takers, giving hopes of a higher rate for the English mail.

Money in great demand, at previous rates.

The Arno brought £50,000 for the Maua Bank in Montevideo. We understand that heavy specie arrivals are expected in the course of a few days.

It was announced that Mr. Salas, of the Argentine Bank, has gone to Europe with a view to extend the operations of the above joint-stock company.

The produce news by the Arno are favourable for both wools and salted hides; the latter are in good demand, stock insignificant, prices very firm. This is probably the best news we could wish, as if the price is kept up, we may expect the saladeros to work during the whole winter.

Sovereigns continue to be worth four rials premium.

Our special reporter in the South Plaza gives the latest sales last week as well as to-day's, at the Station. Nothing done at the Plaza on account of the state of the ground—

2000 ar. yearling wool	40
800 ar. Ranchos, fine mixed	60
1000 ar. Monte	62

NOW FOR REVOLUTION!
Don't be startled—the Country's safe. Nevertheless, immediate Revolution is impending. Don't beat the drums—for this is a silent revolution. It is now going on in every State, including the Married State, the Single State, and all States of the Human System, which are not in conformity with health.
Of whatever disease [having its origin in the stomach] Man or Woman are suffering, the evil is remedied by using
BAGLEY'S HESPERIDINA.
The weakness of the stomach, and its faintly performing its functions, is only occasioned by the debility of the stomach nerves, and their various branches, by being plastered up by phlegm, gross and acid dregs, indigestible meals, or other matters, which, remaining too long, assume a corroding quality.
BAGLEY'S HESPERIDINA
Cleanses the Stomach of all unhealthy accumulations, purifies and invigorates the blood, tones the system, and should be used by those who, having lost, are in search of health.
BAGLEY'S HESPERIDINA
Is put up in Barrel-Shaped Bottles, and for Sale throughout the length and breadth of the land.

MORISON, THE HYGEIST'S
VEGETABLE
UNIVERSAL MEDICINES,
Particularized for Every Complaint.

MORISON'S PILLS. MORISON'S POWDERS.

MORISON'S OINTMENT.

1.—These invaluable medicines being composed only of a vegetable matter, or medical herbs, and warranted, on oath, as containing not one particle of mercurial, or mineral substances all of which are uncongenial to the nature of man), are found to be perfectly harmless to the most tender age, or the weakest frame, under every stage of human suffering; the most pleasant and benign in their operation that were ever offered to the world; and, at the same time, the most certain in searching out the root of any complaint, however deep, and of performing a cure.

2.—The Medicines are comprised in three dif. ferent articles only; that is, in two kinds of pills, of different strength or power, designated by No. 1 and 2—the first is an efficient but most gentle and mild aparient, or opening Medicine, detaching and partially removing the bilious humours, whilst the No. 2 pills carry off these and the serous, acrid, and putrid houmours of the body, to which it is incidental.

The Vegetable Powders, again, are of great assistance, and facilitate the evacuation of bad humours; they soften, are cooling, and allay the thirst, and some doses of them throughout the day are useful in making the pills have better effect and curing sooner.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Cangallo--103.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P.P. MAUA & Co.,
M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p.%) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

THE ACME OF MEDICAL SCIENCE IS ACHIEVED IN THE WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF NEW MEDICAL PRINCIPLES IN

PERFECT PURGATIVE PILLS
COATED WITH SWEET GUM.

1st Principle—A vegetable substitute for Calomel or Mercury is secured.

2d. A cathartic that cleanses the alimentary Canal and its neighboring Viscera as thoroughly as Lobelia does the stomach.

3d. Functional Harmony is secured to the secreting vessels of all the organs and glands in the system.

4th. Purification and equalization of the circulation of the blood.

5th. The properties of these Pills communicate a nutritious principle to the blood and reparative secretion.s

6th. A great want is supplied in their soothing, healing and expulsive power in cases of intestinal ulceration, as in Eruptive Fevers, where a cure depends upon free evacuations.

7th. The aged and persons suffering from paralysis of the bowels, by the use of one pill per day, secures regularity.

Persons suffering with any disturbance of the secretary organs, or that have difficulty in discharging the contents of the bowels, or that are in the habit of taking Pills or opening medicines, should try one box of these truly excellent Pills. The happiness of their effects on the system, and the satisfactory evidence one box will give you of their wonderful curative powers, will convince you that your faith and trust in them will become firmly established.

RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS.

A newly discovered principle in vegetable medication is securred in Radway's Regulating Pill, that places them far in advance of all other Purgative or Cathartic, Aparient or Sedative, and Anti-Bilious Medicine. They are the only vegetable substitute for Calomel or mereury known; the only Medicine that, during their process of purging, imparts nutriment to the debilitated system, and strengh, vigor and purity to the blood, and inpaired secretions; the only purgative that will cleanse the Alimentary Canal and obstructed intestine as quickly and thoroughly, without weakening or neauseating the patient, as Lobelia (the most active and thorough emetie of the herbist) will the stomach, and the only purgative at present known safe to administer in case of Small Pox, Yellow Fevor, Erysipelas, and other Malignant Fevers, that inflame and ulcerate the mucuous membranes of the Bowels, Stomach, &c.

THE PROPERTIES OF
DR. RADWAY'S PILLS.

They equalize the circulation, Purify the Blood, and Purge Corrupt and Acrimonious Humors, and retained deposits from the system in six hours.

AS A CATHARTIC, the increase, when suspended, the peroitaltic movement of the bowels, and promote a quick evacuation of its contents. Their influence is extended throughout the system, purging the retained deposits in the stomach, into the duodenum, stimulating the secretory, ducts of the pancreas and liver, in the promotion and increase of the flow of bile and pancreatic fluids.

PURGATIVES of common aloes exert their action on the colon and rectum by irritation of the mucuos membrane, without influencing the liver or its secretions. Such cathartics are unsafe in pills for general use. The common Cathartic Pills, that induce drastic liquid discharges, should never be given in cases of inflammation, or when there is ulceration of the intestinal canal.

THE APERIENT and mild LAXITIVE properties of RADWAY'S PILLS are the best safeguard in these disorders, and in all cases of eruptions and malignant fevers their balsamic, healing and sothing properties protect the coats of the alimentary passage against the irritant and acrid humors of the fauces.

THE NUTRITIOUS AND TONIC properties of these Pills are of great service in depleting fevers and uterine discharges, likewise as a dinner pill, to increase the appetite and promote digestion.

THEIR SEDATIVE properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach and bowels, either from inflamation, colic, flatulence, wind, crampe, &c.

THEIR COUNTER IRRITANT influence extends throughout the system where there is inflamatiou, congestion or irritation, stimulating the blood and nervous fluids in the congested vessels, and equalizing its circulation. The principle of Counter irritations is generally applied to external remedies, Its application, internally, in the form of a purgative medicine, exemplified in Radway's Pills, has proved a wonderful curative principle, readily withdrawing from the blood and fluids their acrid and irritating humors.

AS DIAPHORETICS OR SUDORIFICS they stimulate the secretions of the skin, induce exhalation of obstructed perspiration.

THEIR DIURETIC properties act on the kidneys, correcting and regulating the flow of urine.

THEIR ANTI-BILIOUS properties stimulate the liver in the secretion of bile, and its discharge thorogh the biliary ducts. In all cases of Headache, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Saffrom-colored Sking, Impaired Digestion, caused by the overflow of bile and its mixing with the blood, thete pills, in doses four to six, will quickly regulate the action of the liver and free the patiedt from these difficulties. One or two of Radway's Pills taken daily, by those subject to bilious pains and torpidity of the liver, will keep the system regular and insure healthy digestion.

In case where there is severe inflamation, paralysis of the bewels, and a speedy discharge of their contents required, grind six of the pills to a powder and take in some preserves or water. In half an hour the pills, given in this way, will generally operate. The dose can be repeated, if necessary, in two hours. We have known the pills, given in this form, to open the bowels ween Croton Oil. Elaterium, Podophyllum 'Mandrake' have failed. It is seldon that a second dose will be required in these cases of Intestinal Obstructions.

PURE, SWEET,
COD LIVER OIL.

The most celebrated Chemists and Physicians of all Countries agree in recommending the Oil extracted from the livers of Cod Fish, as being the best remedy that science has yet discovered for the cure of the diseases that affect the THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST.

And long continued experiments in the Public Hospitals of Paris, London, New York, and in this country have proved that pure Cod Liver Oil exercises the most beneficial effects on such diseases as

SCROFULA AND RHEUMATISM.

The great difficulty heretofore has been to procure an article reliable as to purity. The demand in Europe and America exceeding by many thousands of gallons the entire product of all the Cod Fisheries, in consequence of which unprincipled persons have flooded the markets with Land Oil, Cotton Seed Oil, Linseed Oil, &c., imposing it upon the Public as genuine Cod Liver Oil, greatly to the detriment of health. Our

PURE, SWEET, COD LIVER OIL

Is by special agreement shipped to us by our own Agents, direct from the Fisheries at Newfoundland, and delivered to us under Seal in our Store in New York. At various times, during the last five years, we have submitted our Cod Liver Oil to the

SEVEREST CHEMICAL TESTS,

Made by the first Physicians and Chemists in Cuba, Mexico, Peru, Chile, Rio de Janeiro, &c., who have unanimously declared it to be the purest and best article of the kind ever tested by them, and that it contains

IODINE IN GREATER ABUNDANCE

Than any other Oil they had seen, and this being the life-giving property in all Cod Liver Oils, it becomes evident that the sick will find in ours a more reliable remedy than in any other.

To hasten the cure of all throat, lung, and Chest Diseases, our

KEMP'S PECTORAL OF ANACAHUITA

Should be used along with the Oil, as they are prepared so as to act in complete harmony together.
